To whom it may concern,

I am a postdoctoral researcher in computer graphics at the Technische Universität Berlin, Germany, and am looking for a job in Research, or the Video Game/VFX/Animation/Film industry from approximately September 2008 on. My skill set spans a variety of computer graphics applications, engineering tasks and programming languages. Furthermore, I am a great team player, a fast learner, and a highly motivated and enthusiastic individual. Please see my CV for more details. Due to my research background, my greatest interests lie in advanced 3D Graphics and Animation programming, as well as game design, but I am quite versatile and open to other opportunities and occupations.

Should you be interested in inviting me for a job interview, please contact me at andy@nealen.net. More information on my person is available from my web sites at <http://job.nealen.net> and <http://www.nealen.net>. I am a US citizen with a permanent resident status in Germany.
